

January, 2026

The Farm, Home, & Youth Foundation of Montgomery County is again hosting the FHY Buckle Series for 2026. These divisional barrel racing and pole bending horse shows pay out a percentage of entry fees, have money added, and attract competitors from Pennsylvania and surrounding states, both novice and professional. We currently have 5 shows planned for 2026.

We are asking for donations for prizes such as products, coupons, gift certificates and samples and we will gladly accept monetary sponsors for prizes, and/or equipment to benefit the Foundation. All of our sponsors are announced at every show and are also promoted on social media and our website. Banners for our supporters are displayed during our shows, at the Bulls & Barrels Rodeo, and during the Fair. We will happily promote any business or product that donates or sponsors our shows. Your sponsorship is also tax deductible.

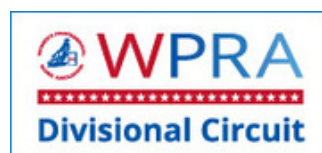

About the The Farm, Home, & Youth Foundation of Montgomery County

The Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that owns and operates the Farm, Home, & Youth Complex (formerly known as the Montgomery County 4-H Center) in Collegeville, PA. The Foundation donates use of the facilities to the numerous county 4-H clubs that are based in Montgomery County. This includes animal science clubs like livestock, beekeeping, seeing eye puppy club, and poultry as well as horse science clubs, and community clubs like sewing and crafting. Proceeds from public events that are hosted by the Foundation go directly to the maintenance and repair of the buildings and grounds. We are a private non-profit and do not receive any government funding or funding from Penn State/4-H.
